The Right Level of Care at the Right Time

Inpatient

Inpatient care offers a structured, highly monitored, around-the-clock treatment environment that includes both individual and group therapies.

Most Suitable For:

Individuals who require daily medication, are medically unstable, and/or are severely depressed or a danger to themselves as a result of their eating disorder behaviors.

Residential

Residential care offers a structured, around-the-clock treatment environment that includes both individual and group therapies. Nursing staff are onsite and medical doctors are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Most Suitable For:

Individuals who are medically stable but in need of 24-hour behavioral and medical supervision.

Partial Hospitalization

Partial hospitalization care occurs six or seven days a week and includes individual and group therapies with a focus on family and community support.

Most Suitable For:

Individuals who are medically stable and in need of daily, structured programming, but not 24-hour supervision, and who are currently unable to maintain their recovery in an outpatient environment.

Intensive Outpatient

Intensive outpatient care is primarily group-based and occurs three times per week, with an opportunity for individualized medical and nutrition treatment.

Most Suitable For:

Individuals who are medically stable and in need of structure and support to maintain sound trajectories toward recovery.

Outpatient

Outpatient care occurs weekly, biweekly, or on an as-needed basis, depending on individual needs.

Most Suitable For:

Individuals who are medically stable and in need of multidisciplinary support to continue to progress toward recovery.

Multidisciplinary Eating Disorder Assessment Clinic

Multidisciplinary Eating Disorder Assessment Clinics offer in-person assessments with a multidisciplinary team to determine if an eating disorder is present and to provide recommendations on next steps.

Most Suitable For:

Any individual who needs multidisciplinary guidance to determine their next best step toward recovery.

Every Journey Begins with a Single Step

Veritas Collaborative provides comprehensive, evidence-based care for children, adolescents, and adults with eating disorders diagnoses in a gender-diverse and inclusive environment.
